—On Monday evening last a rare treat was afforded the people of this town in the shape of a spectacular exhibition of photographic views along the line of the C. P. R. from Montreal to Victoria. The views were projected upon a canvas screen by a 400 candle power oxy-hydrogen light, and were most brilliant and of fine definition. The views were numerous and selected with rare taste. The grandness and sublimity of the Rocky Mountains were brought out so as to be most impressive. Indeed the splendid scenery all along the line of the railway was passed in view before the delighted audience who spent a most instructive and entertaining evening. The maker of the views, Mr. Fred. V. Bingham, accompanied the views by an explanatory lecture.

—The ladies in connection with the Methodist church of this place are intending to hold a tea meeting and social on Wednesday, the 11th of April. One feature of the meeting will be a real taffy pull. The maple sugar to be brought especially from Quebec, and a descriptive lecture on the art of maple sugar making by one who has passed through the whole business in the olden time. Admission: teameting, 25 cents; concert, 25 cents; double tickets admitting two 75 cents each.
—On Friday of last week during the school hours the equanimity of the public school was suddenly disturbed by a rifle bullet entering one of the windows and striking one of the desks. The bullet struck the sash at the edge of the glass and glanced almost at right angles, and by the time it reached the desk its force was spent. It appeared on enquiry that Messrs. Gray & Bell, butchers were shooting at a sheep east of the town, and as they were not shooting in the direction of the school, the bullet must have glanced to take the course it did.
No harm was done beyond the breaking of a pane of glass.

Messrs. H. Jagger and H. J.
Edwards are expected back from England within a fortnight.

glanced to take the course it did.
breaking of a pane of glass.

—The Edgeley church congregation was disappointed last Sabbath by the non-appearance of the minister. He was no doubt delayed by some cause unknown to them. A short time however was profitably spent in singing, etc.
—Mr. John Howden, of Edgeley, has purchased the farm, farm stock, implements, etc., of Mr. R. Stewart, sec. 34, tp. 18, r. 16. Mr. How-den's intention is to start a horse ranch. He has chosen a very favorable locality for the enterprise. We wish him every success.
—A very enjoyable time was spent last Friday evening at Edgeley Farm, when a select company from Qu'Appelle, and a large turnout of Edgeleyans assembled in the commodious hall, kindly lent by Mr.
Cameron for the occasion, and "tripped the light fantastic until the small hours." The company's expressions of satisfaction only further the reputation of the sociability found among the Edgeley pioneers.

EDMONTON.
—At St. Albert the Mounted Police are issuing rations to destitute Metis. The first day two hundred and forty rations were issued. A detachment of police will probably be stationed there. Destitution amongst the Metis and Indians in that district is much exaggerated.
The relief committee reported sixty-five families, averaging eight to a family, requiring instant relief, whereas only half that number have applied. The Indians who recently spoke so saucily to Reed now confess they were prompted to do so by white men and did not speak their own minds, and now regret it. This confirms the opinion of many men here well versed in Indian affairs who have always insisted that the Indians were being handled for an object.

NORTHWEST LEGISLATION.

The reports from Ottawa in reference to Northwest legislation during the present session of Parliament are being keenly observed by the people in the Territories. There have been various rumors respecting our Prohibitory law. Before the session commenced the report was circulated that the permit system was to be done away with and an optional beer license substituted therefor. Since Parliament opened it was reported that the new Northwest Legislature would be given licensing powers similar to the provinces. Another report was to the effect that the hop beer breweries of the Northwest were to be licensed.

We are informed on reliable authority that no change whatever is to be made in the Prohibitory provisions of the Northwest Territories Act, that the permit system will be continued another year, and that there will be no recognition of the hop beer breweries of the Territories by the granting of a license to them. In view of the fact that there will be a general election for the territorial assembly during the coming summer, and that Prohibition will be the main dividing question between candidates at the poll, the Dominion Government has decided that any changes that may be made next session of Parliament will be based upon the recommendation of the new assembly. This is practically inviting the people to divide for or against Prohibition in the election, and the Government expect thus to obtain an expression of opinion from the people. It would have been much better if the Government could have seen their way clear to take a direct plebiscite at the same time that the elections are to be held. While the elector was voting it would have been an easy matter for him to have marked his ballot for Prohibition or against, the ballots having been previously printed so that the upper portion would be for the candidates and the lower for the plebiscite.
This method would have been preferable to that proposed. It is claimed in Government circles that there is no precedent for such a proceeding in the history of Canada.
The representatives who are elected at the polls are supposed to voice the sentiments of the people, and it is one of the principles of responsible government that the Legislative Assemblies or House of Commons are vested with full power to legislate on all public matters, and that a direct plebiscite on any question is not contemplated by our constitution. It is, however, well known that Prohibition is considered by many people as a moral question and not a political one, and that Toryism or Gritism, or personal qualification or prejudice, or sectionalism would enter largely into an election contest for the legislature.
Hence it might be that an anti-Prohibitionist might be elected in a constituency where there are a majority of Prohibitionists or vice versa.
For that reason the new legislature might not really represent the true feelings of the various districts.
But as it appears the question of Prohibition or license will be made the issue, it is important that Temperance men should accept the situation and organize everywhere for the election of Prohibitionists to the new Northwest Legislature.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Calgary and Prince Albert delegations have been urging upon the Government the adoption of a license law for the Northwest. In an interview with Sir John Macdonald he informed them that the Temperance element was so strong in the House that he did not think such a law would pass. The Temperance element is thus recognized.

The end of disallowance negotiations has not yet been reached at Ottawa, but it is now generally understood that the monopoly clause of the C. P. R. charter will be entirely repealed on an arrangement made with the Co. Manitoba or any portion of it should have no rights denied the Territories. The purchase of the monopoly by the Government should meet with approval.

The Raiton case as reported by one of the largest daily papers in England: "Robert Raiton a tax collector of Indian Head, Manitoba, has died from the Malaria like treatment to which a couple of highwaymen subjected him. The horse to which they tied him, after beating and blindfolding him and taking him out on the prairie, at last brought him home, but it was only to die."

Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney is still in Ottawa. Speaking to a reporter he said: "The Indian problem as regards the Northwest presents no difficulties. The present system of keeping various tribes on various reserves is much better than any scheme of placing them all on one reserve, and returns show the condition of the red man in the Northwest improving since he abandoned a nomadic life, and the rate of mortality is diminishing. As long as the Indian department looks after the Indian, his security is assured. With our present system of teaching him the ways of civilization I don't see why he should not increase rather than become extinct."

The Montreal Gazette in a leading article on the C. P. R. monopoly lays stress on the fact that it is the Government who wish to buy, that the railway company made no overtures or evinced any desire for a sale of their privilege, and that the responsibility should rest solely on the Government. After recording the history of the agitation and reiterating that it was mischievous and needless, the Gazette declares that the interests of eastern Canada must be protected in any settlement which is to be made. It hints that the terms of settlement will be the payment of a sum of money which will be devoted to the improvement of the C. P. R. section north of Lake Superior, so as to place the road in a position to compete with all rivals.
The point of the article is, the interests of the eastern provinces must not be allowed to be sacrificed whatever may be the cost.

We take no notice of anonymous correspondence.

PREPARE FOR THE ELEC- TIONS.

According to a telegraph dispatch the elections for the new Legislative Assembly of the Northwest will be held in June or early in July. It therefore becomes important that the people should prepare to put good men in the field as candidates at the earliest possible moment.
As it appears that Prohibition or rum is to be the most important issue of the contest it behooves the Prohibitionists to organize forthwith.
Let them make the issue a square one, and with a determined hand thrust aside all questions of party politics or sectionalism. Let none but pronounced Prohibitionists receive their franchise. Just as soon as the limits of the several electoral districts are made known, conventions should be held in every division and a Prohibitionist candidate nominated. Let the organization be most thorough, and only good and true men nominated. The candidates being chosen there should be a perfectly unanimous and unflinching support given. Temperance men, the time is at hand when we must stand to our guns and meet the fell invader who would devastate our homes and blight our fair land with a curse worse than that of Cain.

No time should be lost in organizing branches of the Northwest Prohibitory Alliance in every town, village or settlement in the whole Northwest. Let there be a rallying to the standard with a determination to roll up such a majority for Prohibition as to show most effectually that we will have nothing to do with the rum traffic. Copies of the constitution of the Northwest Prohibitory Alliance may be had on application to James Weidman, editor of THE PROGRESS and secretary of the Alliance. Write at once for the constitutions and then proceed to organize.

A deputation of Half-breeds waited on Mr. Hughes during his visit here and laid the story of their hardships before him, asking his influence in their behalf. We do not know what success they had, but judging from the past we are afraid those who are most clamorous for aid are the most difficult to satisfy.
The most persistent in their demands for help are not always the

The annual ado about Indian dis-affections is one of the harbingers of spring in the Northwest. Last year the rumors were located in Southern Alberta. This year they come from the districts around Edmonton and Battleford. If misch-evious white men would stay away from the Indians and let them work out their own destiny under the fostering care of a generous government, the talk of Indian risings would cease. This spring's rumors are already noted for their feebleness.
They are not vigorous enough to scare a chicken.

In reference to the Northwest bill an agreement has been come to by the Northwest members whereby Assiniboia is to have eleven members, Alberta six and Saskatchewan five, so that the two latter will have as many as Assiniboia, which was the point all along contended for. Instead of five appointed members, as at present, there will only be three, Judges Richardson, Rouleau and McLeod. They will participate in debates and act as advisory in the House but will not be allowed to vote. The chamber is to be called the assembly and will have the privilege of electing a speaker. There will be no executive as at present, and the provinces will not have power to borrow money.
